Dear Ms Evans

Simon Hunt and Media Logic Systems Limited

I would refer to my email of 4 July and yours of even date.

I have now heard from Simon and can advise as follows.

As you stated in your letter of 19 June, as part of the settlement of his employment claim against Nisaba Group Limited, Simon assigned to Media Logic Systems Limited the patents and appointed that company his attorney to all things necessary to execute documents necessary to deal with the patents. Simon is now busily engaged in his new employment and is not able to turn from that to deal with matters for your client. He is only able to address his mind to these issues during the course of the weekend when again his time is largely engaged in other matters.

Simon is happy to assist Media Logic in this matter subject to those constraints and also the following conditions:

1. That Simon is provided with an indemnity from Media Logic Systems Limited regarding both his and his advisor's costs in dealing with requests in relation to the patents. Simon's charges are £250 per hour plus VAT and expenses. I am advised that to date Simon has spent a total of 12 hours reading documents forwarded by you. My fees in dealing with this matter are at a similar rate.
2. That Simon is provided with an indemnity from Media Logic Systems Limited providing an indemnity in respect of any costs or liabilities arising from execution of the documents.
